JANUARY – DECEMBER 2025 DECLARATION

Re_fashion

january
2025

Reminder of the EPR and its obligations

The Extended Producer Responsibility principle requires companies to manage waste prevention and the end-of-service life of the products that it places onto the market. This measure has been in place for the textile industry (CHF) since 1st January 2007 and covers all goods intended for the general public.

Thereby, all clothing, household linen and footwear marketers are required to contribute to an authority approved eco-organisation - Refashion - in order to comply with their legal obligation.

The Unique Identification Number (UIN) ensures that the marketer is properly registered with the eco-organisation and fulfills their contribution. It can be activated or deactivated annually based on the marketer's status.

As a reminder, companies affected by Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) that are not in compliance and do not have an UIN may face:

- An administrative fine of €30,000, as per Article L541-9-5 of the Environmental Code.
- Legal proceedings by the DGCCRF for non-compliance with consumer information obligations.

The eco-fee

Refashion is the eco-organisation for the clothing, household linen and footwear sector. Our mission is to bring together and support all stakeholders from production to consumption and regeneration to reduce impacts and create value. To achieve this, we collect your eco-fees to implement actions that align with the objectives outlined in our specifications.

DETAILS OF THE DECLARATION

The declaration of products placed onto the market in 2024 will take place from January 15 to February 28, 2025

Schedule

Invoicing

Following the declaration of products placed onto the market in 2024, you will receive 2 invoices:

- An invoice or credit note for the 2024 fund call balance (based on the 2024 scale)
- An invoice for the 2025 fund call (based on the 2025 scale)

The fund call for eco-fees in 2025 is calculated as follows:

Estimated volumes placed on the market in 2025* x 2025 scale**
 + Administrative fees (30€)
 + ADEME fees (2,784€)

**Estimation established by Refashion based on actual volumes in 2023 **including repair and reuse funds*

Please find the 2025 scale in the Appendix.

Eco-modulation

To encourage and reward virtuous eco-design practices or to penalize less sustainable products, Refashion offers a system of bonuses and penalties: the eco-modulations. The following eco-modulations have been applied since January 1, 2025:

- Bonus for durability,
- Bonus for certification with environmental labels,
- Bonus for the incorporation of recycled raw materials,
- Penalties for recyclability.

The criteria, supporting documentation and procedures for obtaining these bonuses are specified in the guide to download.

3 steps to fulfill your declaration and be in compliance

ANNEX II

2025 SIMPLIFIED DECLARATION SCALE

This option is accessible to marketers who do not declare products eligible for eco-modulation and with declared volumes of less than 5000 items/year.

The declaration is completed as quantities placed onto the market per product category: Clothing, Household linen, Footwear.

The tariff per item is increased. This tariff is increased to cover the non-declaration of products eligible to eco-modulation and the absence of traceability.

CATEGORY	Simplified declaration tarification en €/item
 Clothing	0,5271 €
 Household linen	0,5931 €
 Footwear	0,5832 €
